

Strapi will deploy all of the files to your environment.

Changes such as policies, endpoints, controllers, services and plugins will always be properly migrated.

However there are a few things that WILL NOT be migrated automatically.

These settings are stored in the database and as such will need to be migrated manually.

Go in the Roles & Permissions and check that the endpoints are properly mapped out.

Additionally you could set up automated tests via Postman / an API inspector to ensure the endpoints are working.
